Directions

From the Pebble Path card stock cut a layering piece to 8.5cm x 12.2cm. Place down onto the Very Vanilla Note Card leaving an border of approx. 3cm. From a small scrap of the remainder of the card stock die cut 2 fronds.

Next cut a layering piece from the Boho Blue card stock to 8cm x 11.7cm and place on top of the Pebbled Path layer. Leave the approx. the same amount of border (3cm).

Using the Pebble Path Stampin Pad and the smaller of the jar stamps from the set, stamp the jar onto a scrap of the Boho Blue Card Stock. Cut out using the matching die.

Cut out the large jar, from the dye set, using the patterned paper. *Alternatively, if you do not have any of the Designer Series Paper, stamp the large jar from the stamp set onto another Boho Blue scrap using the Pebbled Path and cut out with the large jar die.

The 'Thank You' is stamped onto the scrap of Very Vanilla card stock and cut out by hand. To get the dual color I placed half the stamp onto the edge of the Boho Blue Stampin Pad and then turned and placed the other half down onto the Pebbled Path Stampin Pad. I "huffed" onto the stamp to be sure it was moist and stamped. I did have to do this two times as the first time was a little crooked. I recommend practicing this a couple of times before going to the card stock.

Place the larger jar image down first and then mount the smaller jar on with Stampin Dimensionals. The greeting is cut to fit and glued to the smaller jar with a Dimensional placed nearer the right edge to support it.

Apply a light layer of glue to the back of the fronds (you do not need much) and arrange as if they were coming out of the smaller jar. Finish with a trio of Boho Blue In Color dots.

I stamped the inside of the card and the outside of the matching envelope with the frond stamp from the set and Pebble Path ink.
